DRIVING IN EGYPT.—All the carriages and harnesses are of European manufacture, while among the horses the stately Arabians are numerous. The grandest equipages have both a driver and a footman upon the box, while in front of the horses the nimble seis runs to clear the way. These runners are dressed in white, the skirt reaching only to the knees and the sleeves large and flowing. An embroidered jacket, with the tarboosh, or fez, as a head covering, completes his costume. The lower limbs and feet are nude. The staff of office of the seis is a slender stick about one yard in length, which he carries in a perpendicular position. The speed and endurance of these runners are most remarkable and interesting. Some carriages have two, and those of the khedive and his family often appear with four, two running abreast. The many equipages of the khedive, his sons and his wife, are all imported, and in addition to a full number of the servants already described, each has two or four cavalry men accompanying as a body guard.

Emile Guion, of the Comedie Francaise, once owed her life to her capacity for shrieking. She had a harrowing scene in a rehearsal, in which her final yell. "My child, my child, give me back my child!" used to fairly curdle the blood of everyone within hearing.—She had been invited out to spend the night with some friends, and missing connections, started to walk. In a lonely place she was suddenly seized by two men, and as soon as she could collect her wits, screamed out: "Mon enfant, mon enfant; rendez moi mon enfant!" The highwaymen dropped her, stuck their fingers in their ears and fled, their hair on end. Such a shriek they had never heard before, and from the fact that there was no "enfant" anywhere in sight, they made sure that they had captured a raving maniac.

Accustom a child as soon as he can speak to narrate his little experiences, his chapter of accidents, his griefs, his fears, his hopes; to communicate what he has noticed in the world without, and what he feels struggling in the world within. Anxious to have something to narrate, he will be induced to give attention to objects around him, and what is passing in the sphere of his observation, and to observe and note events will become one of his first pleasures; and this is the ground work fo the thoughtful character.

A Scottish minister was riding on horseback, one stormy day, enveloped in a loose cloak of large proportions, and having a broad scarlet neck. By the strong action of the wind the cloak was tossed about in all directions, when an English gentleman rode up on a spirited charger. The gentleman's horse shied, and almost threw the rider. "That cloak of yours would frighten the devil!" said the Englishman. "Man," replied the minister, "that's just my beezness."

Kentucky turns out seventy-one doctors as her share of the Spring quota. If each one kills twenty-four patients during his practice 1,700 people will have been tucked away through the influence of one college.

Many persons complain that they cannot find words for their thoughts, when the real trouble is that they cannot find thoughts for their words.

A hopeful minister says that the time will come when the members of a church choir will behave just as well as other folks.

Pearl Fishing off Ceylon.

No sum of money, however large, no temptation held out sufficiently strong, would induce the divers to descend into the ocean unless two shark charmers were present, who, as they believe, by means of their charms and potent spells, can prevent the finny monsters of the deep from injuring the pearl seekers. One of these imposters goes out in the pilot's boat, and remains at the head of it, muttering a prescribed form of incantation as each man descends to brave the perils of a vasty deed. The other shark charmer remains on shore, where he remains shut up in a room in a state of nudity till the boat returns with the divers. A large brazen bowl is left with him, filled with water, in which are placed two silver fishes, and it is affirmed that the instant a shark appears in the vicinity of the divers, these fishers agitate the water, and if an accident is about to happen one fish will bite the other. When he receives such indications, the charmer immediately "blinds the shark" with a potent spell, and thus compels the creature to abstain from injuring the divers. These shark charmers reap an abundant harvest during the fishery, as the natives believe that unless they are liberally remunerated they will exert their powerful spells to make the sharks injure them, instead of compelling the monsters to remain quiet until the pearl fishery is over.—It is rather singular that, although sharks are frequently seen by the divers an accident rarely happens, and numberless fisheries have taken place without an accident occurring.

WHY THEY OFTEN FAIL.—Young men often fail to get on in this world because they neglect small opportunities. Not being faithful in little things, they are not promoted to the charge of greater things.

A young man who gets a subordinate situation sometimes thinks it is not necessary for him to give it much attention. He will wait until he gets a place of responsibity, and then he will show people what he can do. This is a very great mistake. Whatever his situation may be, he should master it in all its details, and perform all its duties faithfully.

This habit of doing his work thoroughly and conscientiously is what is most likely to enable a young man to make his way. With this habit, a person with only ordinary abilities would outstrip one of greater talents who is in the habit of slighting subordinate matters.

But, after all the mere adoption by a young man, of this great essential rule of success, shows vim to be possessed of superior abilities.

A young man in a leather store used to feel very impatient with his employer for keeping him, year after year for three years, "handling hides." But he saw the use of it in after years, when in an establishment of his own he was able to tell by a touch the exact quality of the goods. It was only by those thousands of repetitons that the lesson was learned, and so it is in everything in which we acquire skill. The great army of "incapables" is large enough; we should none of us willingly join its ranks. The half informed, half skilled in every business, out number the others dozens to one. It was a good suggestion, worthy of being remembered, which Daniel Webster made to a young man who asked him if there was any "room in the legal profession." "There is always room in the upper story," said the great statesman. The better your chances to rise.

Among the "marks" of a noted criminal now in one of the Washington Penitentiaries are the following, all being done in India ink: The American coat of arms; a female pirate, having at her feet an American coat of arms, with a spread eagle on top; a rooster; a figure of Hope, with an American flag a large ship reefing top-sails; a figure called Onward, partly finished; an Indian girl; an anchor and shield; a fireman on a fire plug, and a boy, the nose very large; another American coat of arms, very large, not completed; an eagle and shield; a very large ship under sail, and a lighthouse.

Gloves were introduced into England in the tenth century, but were only used by the wealthy people, and were considered very valuable. As New Year's gifts they were quite popular, or sometimes "glove money" in place of them. "Pin-money" originated in somewhat the same manner. Pins were so costly that money spent or laid aside for them was called "pin-money," and it became so important that it grew into the name of dower, which was settled upon the lady at her marriage.

The exhilration with which a man will walk up and plank down a ten dollar bill at at the dedication of a church he never expects to attend, can only be counterbalanced by the indignation that permeated every fiber of his being when he is presented with a bill for five years' subscription due on his home paper.

"The girls of our day are very badly educated," said one of the members of a committee on education to the Bishop of Gloucester. "That cannot be denied," retorted his lordship. "However, there is no consultation, the boys never find it out."

Very few girls can spank a pepper box as it should be spanked, and yet they want to get married and raise families.

BODIE, APRIL 2, 1880.

SAN FRANCISCO AGENCY.—L. P. Fieber, 21 Merchants' Exchange, is our Agent, and is authorized to contract for advertising, receive subscriptions and make collections on our account.

NEWS OF THE MORNING.

The Citizens' Protective Union elected their full ticket in San Francisco on Tuesday by a majority of 6,980 over the highest on the Workingmen's ticket.

Kearney is sick, and his case has been postponed for one week.

The militia bill has been defeated in the Senate.

OUR NEW MINISTER.—President Angell, of the University of Michigan, has accepted the appointment of Minister to China on conditions, that he shall not be trammeled with any instruction as to his course. He intends to study up the Chinese question in California and in China. We fear he is too much imbued with the eastern love for the Chinese, and that he will have but little time to see the beauties of Chinese life in San Francisco, to give us a treaty that will meet the approval of the people. It is to be regretted that a Californian had not been appointed to that position, as we have men among us fully as capable of filling the Chinese Mission as can be found anywhere, and more so, as they understand the "situation" better. But let us hope and pray that our new Minister may be the right Angell to lead us out of our Chinese troubles, and bring about some plan and to rid the country of this undesirable element that has cursed the country so long.

GONE TO HIS LONG HOME.—On Wednesday night last Billy Haines, who has suffered so long and severely, was called to his long home. Bravely he has battled with the fell destroyer, Death—as bravely and heroically as he battled with the storm while doing his duty toward his employers and serving his fellow citizens. Twice he has suffered the amputation of his legs and arms, and in the endeavor to save his life all that medical science and skill and careful nursing could do, has been done. For the past two months a devoted and patient wife has been his constant companion, but his injuries were so severe that they availed nough. Billy was a man of a generous, so cia nd wherever known had many friends. The grief-stricken widow has the most heartfelt sympathy of this entire community. The funeral took place yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock. He was a native of Concord, New Hampshire, where his parents still reside.—Mammoth Herald.

AN INDEPENDENT CHURCH.—Large meetings were held in New York on Sunday last, looking to the establishment of an American Independent Church, at which addresses were made by Rev. Fathers Quinn, Wood, Broderick and others—all formerly Roman Catholic priests. It was stated that many priests were at present engaged in the work, and that Father Quinn, President of the organization, was daily in receipt of communications from priests who were prepared to abandon Romanism, and who were most anxious to labor for the benefit of poor people in the extending of the principle practices of Christianity. Letters were read from several priests in various parts of the country, saying their whole hearts were in the movement; and communiuations were presented from Methodist, Baptist and Presbyterian Conferences in Baltimore, Philadelphia and New Jersey, heartily endorsing the movement.

WELL DONE.—The people of San Francisco—the better class of its population—did well on Tuesday, when they went to the polls and, it is to be hoped, effectually squelched Kearney and his satellites. This election was to select fifteen free-holders to frame a charter for he city of San Francisco. The Citizens' Protective Union nominated a ticket composed of the best men of the city and, fortunately, elected them. This contest has demonstrated the fact that when the business men and respectable class of the population of San Francisco will give their attention to city affairs and and take part in an election they can always elect good men, or at least defeat bad ones. We hope they will follow this work up and give Kearney to understand very plainly that his day is past in that city; that his incendiary talk and agitation must forever cease.

An old-time stock man of White Pine, says the outlook in that section for stock and ranching the coming season is a gloomy one, from the fact that a scarcity of water is almost inevitable. Although there has been a considerable fall of snow this winter it is unusually small as compared with previous years, and on White Pine Mountain, where two or three ago the snow laid in the big canyons thirty or forty feet deep, there hardly any this season.

WHO CAN?—We are daily informed through the telegrams that Blaine cannot carry a Southern State; that Grant is preferred in one State and Sherman in another What is the use of wasting one's breath on the prospects of any Republican candidate in the South, so far as the Presidency is concerned? It is folly to talk about any Republican carrying a single Southern State. The Republicans must put up their strongest man to secure the North, and that man is James G. Blaine.

It is reported that a conference will be held this week of leading Blaine men from all over the country to compare notes and consult Blaine.

The Virginia City (Nev.) School Trustees have refused to allow the public schools to be opened with prayer.

The Democrats of San Jose have repudiated the Workingmen and refuse to endorse their nomination.

COAST.

The Election—Kearney Squelched

SAN FRANCISCO, April 1,—The following is the number of votes, each ticket received at the late election. Average vote for Citizens' Protective Union Ticket, is 19,022, and Workingmen 11,676, giving an average majority for the former of 7,349. T. J. Bergin was the highest on the Citizens', having received 19,262 votes. The highest Workingman was Wm. Broderick, who received 12,282.

Assessment.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 1,—Jupiter, has levied an assessment of 40 cents.

Kearney Sick.

Kearney's case has been postponed one week on account of his sickness.

Legislative.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 1.—SENATE.—Gorman's bill to prevent the Chinese from taking fish in the bays and rivers of the State was discussed for an hour. The main objection to it was its provision denying any alien the privilege of fishing. This was amended by using the words "aliens incapable of becoming electors." Previous question was finally called and the bill recommitted.

ASSEMBLY—Cameron called up his motion to consider the vote by which Young' substitute debris and drainage bill was passed. Motion brought up the whole debris question again, and several long speeches were made. The general drift of the discussion was, that although the bill in some respects could be better, delay was dangerous, and that members who wanted legislation should secure what they had got. The motion to reconsider was lost. Ayes 34; Noes, 43.

On motion of Mr Dickenson the Act to add certain sections to the Political Code concerning the State militia was called up. The design of the Act is to prevent the organization of rifle clubs, and of W. P. C. and to disarm companies already organized. Enos denounced the bill as the most monstrous measure ever introduced, declaring it to be hostile to the spirit of free institutions. Conger followed in a speech characterizing the bill as infamous, saying there had never been a time in San Francisco when the authorities could not maintain the peace. Dickenson said that the bill was entirely constitutional, and its design was to bring the entire militia under proper discipline, The bill was refused engrossment by a vote of 20 to 16. Notice of reconsideration given.

EASTERN.

Political.

NEW YORK, March, April 1.—The Committee of 21 appointed to bring about a reconciliation between the Democratic factions met last night and appointed a sub-Committee to confer with sub-Committees of the factions, and try to fix things up so as to send a united delegation to the Convention.

U. S. Marshals.

WASHINGTON, April, 1.—In the Senate yesterday the House amendment, striking out the immediate deficiency bill, for the appointment of acting Deputy Marshals of elections by U. S. District or Circuit Judges, and providing the Circuit or District Courts shall appoint them, was agreed to by party vote. Allison moved to make the appropriation of $600,000 for the expense of U. S. Marshals to apply to their Deputies, and in a coloquy with Eaton claimed that there was no clause in the revised statistics providing for the general Deputies, which the bill mentions. The amendment was defeated, 3 to 20.

Blaine offered an amendment giving the employes of the public printing office, the usual public holidays. White accused Blaine of proposing general legislation, on an appropriation bill, which principle he (White) was opposed to. Blaine said the Senate would soon have a chance to prove his devotion to the principle; for himself he refused to be spoonied by the House, and to accept all their legislation without like privileges on the part of the Senate, and unless there was a definite rule adopted, not to engraft legislation on appropriation bills, he would maintain the equal right of the order against Blaine's amendment Rollins (Presiding) ruled accordingly. Edmunds appealed. David Davis objected to Blaine's amendment and his stand, and had no doubt he would be consistent and move to strike all general legislation from the bill. Blaine asked Davis if he had stated his position correctly. Davis said he did not propose to be criticized now, but would state his position when an occasion was presented in tangible form. Blaine said Edmunds was noted for loading down appropriation bills with legislation, which charge Edmunds sarcastically denied. The entirely irrespective of appropriation bills. He would maintain the equal rights of the Senate. Edmunds made the point of order against Blaine's amendment entirely irrespective of its merits, that it was in contravention of the rule of the Senate, and therefore the rule of the Senate need not here apply.

Chair here reversed his decision, which Carpenter applauded, and which Blaine regarded as improper, unless reasons were given. A spirited interchange then occurred between Blaine and Carpenter as to the propriety of this point. Edmunds moved to strike out the clause relating to the pay of special Deputy Marshals, leaving the opposition intact. Rejected 34 to 22; the bill was then read a third time and passed, ayes 34, noes 24.

That Contract.

WASHINGTON, April 1.—The Sub-Committee of the House Committee on Pacific Railroad, who were instructed by the full Committee to inquire into the alleged contract between the railroad and Pacific Mail Company have not prepared their report upon the subject, but it is understood that they will take the ground that while such contract would be obnoxious to received tenets and precedents of common law. The universal changes and conditions upon which commercial transactions are based, justify a radical departure from former precedents.

Serious Charges.

WASHINGTON, March, April 1.—Representative Horace Davis has received and will to-morrow file with the State Department an elaborate communication addressed to Secretary Evarts by Theodore A. Bord, of San Francisco, making very serious charges against Rev. Thos. L. Dawson, formerly of Oakland, and now United States Consel at Samoa, Lord's truthfullness and reliability are vouched for to Congressman Davis by a number of the most respectable citizens and business firms of San Francisco interested in the Sandan Islands, who wrote him that Lord was selected by them to go to Samoa and advise them of the true state of affairs there on account of his well known integrity. Lord charges Consul Dawson with working in the interest of the German Government and business men, and against American interests.

Murder.

LEADVILLE, April, 1.—F. A. Prentice, last night, shot and killed L. C. Dixon, while engaged in a quarrel growing out of an alleged insult offered by Prentice to a lady whom Dixon was escorting home.

A Skirmish.

ST. PETERSBURG, April, 1.—Another skirmish has taken place between the Cossock pickets and the Chinese troops on the Kuldja boundary.

MINING IN THE EAST.—The New York Mining News says

"The mining interest has already forced a marked recognition from the general newspaper press of the city, and by the time the new mining stock exchange gets well under way, we expect to see the review of the mining stock market, with items of mining news, an established feature in every daily paper. Within a year from now, neglect of this interest will be as much out of the question as would be the omission of railroad stock reports in the usual 'money article' to-day.

It is as certain as fate that railroad securities must take the second place, at least so far as the number of people interested is concerned. Only those who are comparatively wealthy can buy railway shares, and none but the very wealthy can expect to acquire any influence in railway corporations. This class of property has become so centralized that it has ceased to be an inviting investment except to millionaires. It affords no chance to men of moderate means, and it is all the time becoming more forbidding to them.

The newspapers can no more keep people from buying mining shares than could the Government restrain the tidal wave of population that rolled into the Black Hills in the face of editorial and Executive breakwaters. The time is coming when there will be a hundred people interested in mining stocks where one is interested in railway securities. The newspapers are only beginning to recognize the situation; the people will in time force them to appreciate it fully."

Assembly bill amending the Civil Code conferring upon the Superior Courts the jurisdiction and authority heretofore exercised in certain cases by the Courts abolished by the Constitution.

THE CHRONICLE.

BODIE, APRIL 2, 1880.

The CHRONICLE Office is on the second floor of "Goodson's Building," east side of Main street, between Standard Avenue and Green street.

JOB PRINTING.—Job printing of the finest description will be furnished at this office at Sacramento prices.

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

AN ELABORATE MAP.—We call attention to the advertisement of Edward Eysen, who has purchased the interest of C. L. Anderson, the well-known surveyor, in and to the Map of the Bodie Mining District. Mr. Eysen is a very competent surveyor and draughtsman, and will finish the work commenced by Mr. Anderson in an artistic and masterly manner. This Map will be one of the most elaborate ever gotten up of any mining district, and will not fail in meeting with a ready sale. It will be printed on heavy paper, and finely illustrated with views of prominent places of interest, mines, mills, etc., in the district. Mr. Eysen expects to have the map ready in about three months, and those wishing to have their mining property shown should make prompt application to him.

OURSELVES.—One month has passed since we commenced the publication of the daily, and we take occasion to say that it was predicted by our cotemporaries and their compositors that it would not be continued a month; that the field was full; that the female compositors could not get out a morning paper, and all that sort of talk. Well, we have demonstrated the fact that a morning paper can be issued with the help of lady compositors. As to our business, we have equalled, if not excelled our cotemporaries in advertising patronage. We can assure our friends and the public that the DAILY CHRONICLE is a fixed institution.

FALSE ALARM.—Yesterday being All Fools Day an alarm of fire was raised by the ringing of the fire bell at about 6 o'clock in the morning. It of course, caused an excitement and brought everybody out, to find that it was merely an April fool joke. It is a pity we had no way of fining or punishing a man for raising false alarms of fire. There should be no false alarms rung, for the time will come when our people will turn in their beds and say its only a false alarm, and a fire may get under headway. There must not be too much cry of wolf.

APRIL FOOLS.—Yesterday the usual number of jokes were played by friends, some pretty good ones, but generally the old stale ones—such as dishing up fine looking doughnuts or crullers, made of cotton; cloth pie, sending people to the Postoffice for registered letters, etc. They were all taken in good part, and we have not heard of any one being shot on account of such jokes.

GO SLOW.—One of our cotemporaries announced that it will shortly enlarge. We will reciprocate and volunteer some good advice. Don't enlarge; heed the example of the News. To deceive the public, it bought a lot, built an office, bought a power-press, enlarged and in ten days cut down to old size, and was "airy." Now where is it? Time tells!

"601."—A party here has been handed a notice signed "601," ordering him to leave Bodie within 24 hours, or suffer the consequences. The party in question prefers to stay in Bodie and be hanged, if need be, to leaving and living in any other less favored locality. But who composes the "601?"

CUT UP.—The road leading up the hill to the Mono has been fearfully cut up and gullied by some individual, stuck after placer mining, who put in sluice boxes near the Standard wood pile and tried his luck at mining. The street by the Bodie Hotel is almost impassible for wagons, or pedestrians, for that matter.

THAT DOG!—We are requested by the lady, whose dog was poisoned a few days since, an account of which appeared in the News yesterday morning, to say that it is all correct, with the exception that she is not a widow, has never had a Chinese domestic, and the dog was not a poodle. That's all; nothing more.

THE BALL.—The P. P. P's Second Annual Masquerade Ball, at Miners' Union Hall, last evening, was a grand success and brilliant affair. Our fair compositors having deserted us to join the happy throng, preclude our giving it an extended notice.

THANKS.—We thank Hon. Cyrus Coleman of the Assembly, for a copy of the Report of the State Engineer to the Legislature.

The Election Committee of the Citizen's Protective Union have decided to publish after elections list of the names of all voters who did not take the trouble to go to the polls on Tuesday. It is notorious that when the merchants of that city close their places of business to allow themselves and clerks to take part in the election, they soon forget that part of their duty, and go fishing or to the Cliff House.

The Stock Report says: The spirit of speculation is as strong to-day as it ever was in San Francisco, and money for investment and speculation is plentiful, but the damper comes from extraneous causes,

A part of the town of Tuscarora is being undermined, and fears are entertained that when a Spring thaw comes there will be a general falling in near Main and Wood streets.

The excess of exports over imports for the 12 months ended February 29, 1880, was $212,298,963; for the twelve months ended February 28, 1879, $293,765,167.

The Republican Central Committee of Placer County caused the county to be canvassed as to the sentiment of the party on a Presidential nominee, and finding that it was nearly unanimous for Blaine, the committee has appointed a solid Blaine delegation to the State Convention.
